

ID4: Tutorials given within the team and other investments in spreading knowledge

Backend Testing and IntelliJ setup:

For backend testing knowledge we invested in live tutorials and peer reviewing for spreading knowledge on how to perform backend testing.

For members who could be in person, Ralph held a live tutorial on how to do backend testing. For members not in person, Ralph had early pull requests up where we urged them to review then ask any questions on parts that are unclear. Also did a tutorial on how to setup the ide properly.